Hon. John C. Sheppard.

From The Daily Item, Sept. 26.

Sumter is fortunate tomorrow in having Hon. John C. Sheppard of Raleigh as the principal speaker at the mass meeting to be held to inaugurate the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign. He is one of the few men now living in South Carolina who rendered distinguished service as leader in the memorable campaigns of 1876 and 1878 for the redemption of the State from the hands of the alien and the ignorant who were debasing our people and debauching our government. Then and since he has served this State and its people with ability and zeal as a public official and as a private citizen, and the honors that have been bestowed upon him have been honorably and worthily worn. Since the United States entered the war he has given time and ability to further every cause with an energy that no man could well emulate. According to Sumter to help with the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign he is but doing what he has done in other sections of the State.

Deaths.

Manning, Sept. 25.—Capt. Alexander Colclough Davis died Monday morning at his home, about three miles southwest of Manning after a brief illness and was buried this morning in the city cemetery. He was in the 46th year of his age, being a son of the late James E. Davis. For a number of years Captain Davis was clerk of court for Clarendon county. He attended the Citadel for a year or two and then took a business course in Baltimore. He worked for several years in the clerk's office and filled out the unexpired term when his father died. He was a lieutenant in the Manning Guards at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war and was mustered into the service as first lieutenant, Company D, Second S. C. Infantry. In Cuba he had charge of the quartermaster department of his regiment. After being mustered out at the close of the war he enlisted as a private in Captain Sawyer's company at Jefferson City. Captain Sawyer immediately made him his first sergeant and he so served for many months in the Philippines. There he won a commission as lieutenant in the constabulary. After getting out of the service he farmed a portion of the Davis estate, where he also established a splendid poultry farm. At the time of his death he was engaged in perfecting a stove for curing tobacco, which bade fair to revolutionize the tobacco growing industry.

Hartsville, Sept. 25.—H. Lide Law, aged 72 years, one of Hartsville's oldest and foremost citizens, died at his home here today following an illness of many months. The funeral will be at the Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Law was a prominent citizen and a large planter and owned considerable property in and adjoining the town of Hartsville, where he was born and reared. He was a son of the late Col. Thomas C. and Mary Hart Law, and the town derived its name from the Hart family. He was a man of affairs and influence and took a deep and active interest in education, affairs of State and religion. He with other members of his family was among the founders of the Hartsville Presbyterian church, of which faith he was a consistent follower as well as aggressive worker for the larger part of his life.

Surviving Mr. Law are his widow, who was Miss Hannah Edmunds of Sumter; three sons, W. E. Law, in government work at Norfolk, Va.; T. V. Law, chemist of Atlanta; H. L. Law, planter of Hartsville; and one daughter, Mrs. J. M. Richardson of Hartsville; two brothers, Dr. T. H. Law, of Spartanburg and W. E. Law, of Bishopville, and one sister, Miss Emma Law of Hartsville.
